

KEMIDAY

best events
of the week

WEEKEND

Ben Christensen
returns from the
US to star in a
movie, Jumper.
About knitwear,
but about a
jumping through
space-
continuum.
page 10

ON The Feeling
you to Join With
pop loveliness.
page 26

IES Alan Yentob
is into self-help
magazine on BBC
See page 49

ED Count the stars as Ozzy and
on host the
See page 53

UR Forefathers
modern art take
Tate Modern.
page 30

II The Cult bring
punk to the
fish Town Forum.
page 25

ION/ENGLAND EDITION

IMAGE OF THE WEEK

Part of a new gallery installation by Jennifer Taylor – the artist's first solo show – on display at the Wyer Gallery, 191 St John's Hill, London SW11 (www.thewyergallery.co.uk 020-7223 8433), until March 15

John Russell Taylor
has written on film, art,
theatre and TV from the late 1950s, mostly for The Times. He describes the Alfred Hitchcock he knew.
SCREEN, 13

Ben Schott
is the author of the *Schott's
Miscellanies* and *Schott's
Almanac* series. He applies
his fastidious eye to the life
of Alfred Hitchcock.
SCREEN, 14

Rachel Campbell-Johnston
has been chief art critic of The Times since 2002, and is also poetry critic. She travels to Leeds to confront 20 beastly manifestations.
SIGHTS, 28

4 STARTS

Caitlin Moran on
Kerry Katona;
Richard Morrison on
the sound of the city

6 SCREEN

The mellow side of Jack Black. Plus, in praise of Hitchcock

19 STAGE

The West End boys
inviting you to a Brief Encounter

23 SOUNDS

How to get ahead
playing Salome. Plus,
new CDs reviewed

28 SIGHTS

Mutants on show
at the Henry Moore
Institute

33 TV&RADIO

Lena Headey tackles
the Terminator. Plus,
documentaries
designed to shock

Five things we learnt while
making this issue

- Jack Black's mother worked on the Hubble telescope (page 6)
- A manly tongue always outs a transvestite (page 12)
- The playwright and translator of Art earned £7m-plus each (page 19)
- "Sexy is when you are trying; sensual is when you're not" (page 23)
- The TV documentary Half Man Half Tree was not a YouTube hoax (page 34)